

DR. SAJAL AJMANI

Consultant - Rheumatology

Qualification

MBBS | MD | MRCP (UK) | DM Rheumatology

Overview

Dr. Sajal Ajmani has been fortunate enough to study at three of the premier institutes in India and to be trained by the best professors. He has also worked as an assistant professor at AIIMS, New Delhi, in the Department of Rheumatology. He chose to specialize in rheumatology since it's the branch closest to internal medicine, and there was a dearth of rheumatologists in India. He has also been trained to do musculoskeletal ultrasounds and intra-articular injections. He aims to make the lives of patients with arthritis and other connective tissue disorders as comfortable as possible and help them live a life as close to normal as possible.
